

CENTRE FOR ABORIGINAL STUDIES
RESEARCH SEMINAR SERIES

The Centre for Aboriginal Studies organises monthly one hour lunch-time research seminars that brings together the Centre’s research community and showcases a diverse and exciting range of topics. We hope that this initial in-house seminar series will allow for the dissemination and communication of our research and advocacy to the broader university and wider community in future.

Date	Topic	Presenter
30 April, 2019	The Aboriginal Lock Hospital Experiment: Acknowledgement and Healing Historical Trauma	Dr Robin Barrington
27 May, 2019	Auto-ethnography as a source of Wellbeing	Dr Carol Dowling
30 July, 2019	Decolonising Psychology in Practice: developing a holistic healing model of psychological services in Nyungar country	Karen Ugle
27 August, 2019	If you're Kaarty and you know it	Michelle Webb
24 September, 2019	Indigenous enabling students' transitions into higher education	Aaron Matthews
29 October, 2019	Health Education in action	Dr Julie Owen
26 November, 2019	Uptake of 715 Adult Health Checks by Young People (15-24 years of age) attending Aboriginal Community Controlled Health Services across Western Australia	Francine Eades

Seminars occur on the last Tuesday of every month.

Time: 12pm - 1pm

Room: 211.230

Please bring your own lunch.

For more information or to participate in the program contact:

Dr Shaouli Shahid

Centre for Aboriginal Studies

(08) 9266 5147

S.Shahid@curtin.edu.au